

TROUSERS STILL AU FAIT IN CHINA

Not Forbidden to Women by Recent Edict Regulating Dress.

USUALLY KEPT COVERED

Dr. Yamei Kin Discourses on This Interesting Article of Apparel.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

New York, January 4.—Trousers, as an article of women's wear, were not abolished by the recent Chinese edict regulating feminine dress. This interesting fact was pointed out by a group of New York women who besieged a Chinese sister, Dr. Yamei Kin, at the close of a lecture she delivered this morning at the Madison Theatre.

Dr. Kin, who received her education in this country, and speaks fluent English, showed her own trousers worn under a long outer garment of black broadcloth coming to her ankles. She said that the dress of Northern China, and that a skirt and trousers are worn in the South.

"It has never been considered the best form for Chinese women to be seen in public in trousers," said Dr. Kin. "They were worn, to be sure, but concealed by other garments. Since the revolution women have gone about with so much more freedom that there was a tendency to ignore the etiquette required that the trousers be covered. Hence the present edict, which, by the way, was mistakenly reported in American papers as requiring Chinese women to wear hats also."

"From the reports printed in your papers," Dr. Kin continued, "you are led to believe that woman suffrage is almost an accomplished fact in China. The truth is, that we haven't even full manhood suffrage yet."

"The only tangible result so far from the agitation in China for woman suffrage that I know of is this: Yuan Shi Kai received a suffragist—I don't know who it was—and he was so bored by her two hours' talk that he issued an order that no more suffragists were to be admitted to an audience with him."

Dr. Kin has just come from Washington, where she talked with many government officials. So when asked whether she desired this country to recognize the Chinese republic her reply was awaited with interest.

"As yet," she said, "there is no established and formulated government to be recognized. With whom, for instance, could you treat? With Yuan Shi Kai? There are provinces which do not recognize him."

"I am not in favor of recognizing the republic as such until it has progressed further."

"Yuan is a man of such ability, tact and power, that now the south is afraid to have their leaders come north. They say Yuan wins them all to his party," she said.

New York, January 4.—One-minute prayers will be offered every day at noon by the religiously inclined if a recommendation made to-day by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw is carried out. Dr. Shaw said that the English women are praying for the success of their cause, and she thought it would be a good thing if the American women did the same. She is opposed to English militant methods as a rule, but says that militant Christianity is perfectly allowable.

"It would be a good thing," she said to-day, "for it would prove that suffrage agitation is not the irreligious, agnostic, blasphemous thing some people say it is. It would do the women themselves good. I don't think it would really cause the Almighty to change His attitude. But then I don't think His attitude needs changing."

"It would perhaps have some effect on the churches, and that is needed. The church is a cowardly institution on the subject of social work for reform. The churches ought to be fighting modern evils, such as the white slave traffic."

BINGHAM SCHOOL

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Mebane, N. C., January 4.—The first half-session of Bingham School was a most successful one, in that it proved to be wonderfully helpful as well as interesting and pleasant to all concerned. The cadets showed remarkable improvement, and, together with

BAIL IS GRANTED TO GEORGE SCOTT

Negro Held in Connection With Murder of Mansfield Thornton and Wife.

Fredericksburg, Va., January 4.—Judge R. H. L. Clanchester, after hearing evidence from a number of witnesses in connection with the murder of Mansfield Thornton and his wife here on the night of December 13 last, on application of Attorney Lee J. Graves, finally consented to bail George Scott, who is under arrest in connection with the murders, in the sum of $3,000 for his appearance before the grand jury of the Circuit Court of Spotsylvania County. J. L. Hargrove is still in jail at Spotsylvania County house, charged with the murder, and no application was made for bail. It is expected that the case will come up in regular court about February 1. The Virginia Tale and Soapstone Company, of which Charles H. Hunkamp is the manager, has awarded contracts for the erection of a soapstone mill on its property near Torderville, in Orange County. A quantity of new machinery has been ordered and some of it is now on the way, and will be installed as soon as it arrives.

Rev. J. J. Lanier has arrived from North Carolina, and will enter on his duties at once as rector of St. George's Episcopal Church, to which he was recently called.

SUED FOR DIVORCE

De Wolf Hopper Defendant in Action
Brought by His Wife.

Minneapolis, L. I., January 4.—Mrs. Ellen Hopper Miller Hopper, wife of De Wolf Hopper, the actor, began an action for absolute divorce from her husband in the Supreme Court here to-day. The affidavit was submitted to Justice Townsend B. Scudder by Samuel B. Hamberger, of New York, counsel for Mrs. Hopper. The papers were sealed, and the court reserved decision. No evidence was taken, and the suit was undefended. It was said that service was by publication. Hopper being out of the State at present. Counsel for the plaintiff said that the alleged misconduct on the part of Hopper took place in New York City within the past year. The Hoppers were married at a registrar's office in the Kensington district of London on October 2, 1899. They have no children.

KITCHIN TO SEND HIS FAMILY AWAY

Governor Will Stay in Mansion
Alone Until Inauguration of Successor.

HIS PLANS NOT DEFINITE

Several Candidates for Clerical
Positions at Next General Assembly.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Raleigh, N. C., January 4.—Governor Kitchen said to-night that his family will leave Raleigh on Monday for Roxboro, where he has had considerable improvements made in his home place. The Governor will occupy the mansion alone from then until the inauguration of Governor Craig, which by common consent, seems to be fixed for January 15, the Legislature officially to fix the date.

Governor Kitchen says he has made no definite arrangements as to where he will locate for the practice of law, and that he has very attractive offers from Winston-Salem, Greensboro and Raleigh, while there is a chance that he will resume residence and practice in Roxboro. There is report also of a co-partnership between him and Judge J. S. Manning, of Durham, with offices both in Raleigh and Durham, for joint practice.

Otis Self, who served last session as principal clerk of the Senate, and is an active candidate for re-election, has arrived from Weaver and says he has every assurance of winning. It is understood that W. H. Bain, formerly of Raleigh and now of New Bern, is actively in the race for the place. He was secretary of the North Carolina Grand Lodge of Masons for several years before the election of John C. Brewey to that place sixteen years ago. Practically all those who served the last Legislature in various positions are seeking re-election, and indications are that the General Assembly will be "manned" as to clerical and other force this time by much the same group of men.

Dr. Charles L. Raper, of the chair of economics, University of North Carolina, is out in a public statement insisting that the present system of property assessment for taxation in North Carolina must either be abolished or administered with the utmost ability and justice. He insists that there continues to be too great inequalities in assessments between counties, the present system amounting to little more, he thinks, than a personal assessment by the owners. He wants a State tax commissioner appointed at a salary of $3,000 to $4,000, with traveling and office expenses. He claims that the Corporation Commission is not in position to perform the duties of State tax commissioner as now required, for which the three commissioners receive $500 additional salary each. He wants the county and not the township made the unit of assessment work. He believes each county should support a permanent tax assessing office, to work under the direction of supervision of a State tax assessor.

SOCIETY AWAITS MRS. CLEVELAND

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Washington, January 4.—The coming visit to Washington of Mrs. George Cleveland has been a great interest in society here. Mrs. Cleveland is expected on Tuesday, and will be the guest for the rest of the week at the home of Mrs. John Hays Hammond. The following Tuesday morning she will go to the home of Mrs. Henry C. Dimock, sister of the late William C. Whitney, Secretary of the Navy under President Cleveland. Mrs. Cleveland will spend the remainder of that week with Mrs. Dimock.

The President and Mrs. Taft have arranged a dinner party in Mrs. Cleveland's honor at the White House on Saturday evening. One feature of this dinner will be the presence of many widows of distinguished statesmen and officers of the United States. Prof. Thomas J. Preston, whose engagement to Mrs. Cleveland recently has been announced and whose marriage is expected to take place in April, will be one of the guests at the dinner.

Mrs. Cleveland never has been inside the White House since she left it as the wife of the retiring President. A brilliant round of entertainments in addition to the White House dinner has been arranged for Mrs. Cleveland.

Mrs. Cleveland will be among Mrs. Dimock's guests at the dinner in honor of President and Mrs. Taft on January 10, and Mrs. Hammond will have a dinner for Mrs. Cleveland on Friday evening.

James-Epperson.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Grand Rapids, Mich., January 4.—The marriage of Miss Nora E.
